Data Notes

1) Various bad data points were removed and marked in orange as follows:

	Situations where 1 gross meter had a good value and the other was abnormally low creating a false average and therefore Net Gen higher than Gross Gen (ratio > 1)
	Situations where data didn't exist due to DCS issues (alphanumeric code)
2)	There are zero values left in all dataset because it is difficult to determine when a zero is a legitimate value versus not. Evaluate on a case by case basis.
3)	OPM heat rate values during startup and shutdown do illustrate the difficulty in quantifying performance below min load
4)	Negative Net Generation values may be legitimate when we are in startup/shutdown as we need the Aux power from the grid when we are not generating onsite
